

Information
Understructures

Work Where You Are Computing sm

Work Where You Are Computing is IU's vision of how small businesses thrive in our current high cost of energy environment. Work Where You Are Computing enables businesses to dramatically reduce low-return-on-investment travel and commuting. Work Where You Are Computing allows businesses to reduce their building, staffing, and facility expenses.

Rather than retreating or missing critical business opportunities by limiting face time with customers, Work Where You Are Computing helps businesses invest valuable resources in keeping customer relationships vital and profitable.

Work Where You Are Computing is IU's integrated approach combining mainstream Information Technology, a re-imagined main office, a distributed workforce, and IU's decades of experience in operational and administrative computing.

If your business is being impacted by the high cost of energy, call us at 256.882.6265 to talk about how Work Where You Are Computing can help you not just survive, but thrive!

Email us at helpdesk@iu-inc.com and request our white paper The Case for Work Where You Are Computing. There is no obligation, and no one will call.